LOCAL ITEMS

Born—September 30, 1906, in Los Angeles, to the wife of Robert Nutt, formerly of Nogales, Arizona. Mother and little one reported as doing nicely. Hearty congratulations.

B. A. Neighbours, better known throughout the county as "Bud," is here from the Mowry as a trial juror. "Bud" says it is dollars to spuds, the democratic ticket is a winner. Bring on your spuds.

Calahan & Reagan, proprietors of the Palace continue to wear elongated smiles, not-withstanding the fact that the Chinese policy game is to the bad an eight spot and several sevens. Everybody loves a true sport.

Ed. Gildea, son of Judge and Mrs. C. A. Gildea, is again at home after several months sojourn at Naco and Globe, where he worked at his trade—printing. Ed. says that he will remain here until after election.

Mr. Jim Reagan of Mowry, where he is successfully engaged in business, has this week been a visitor at the county seat, being in attendance at district court as a trial juror. The gentleman is a brother of Frank and Lee Reagan of the Palace.

Yesterday morning Miss Luisa de la Huerte, who has been visiting with her friend Mrs. E. D. Miller, returned home, being accompanied by Mrs. Miller, who will enjoy a couple of weeks at the bay city with relatives and friends.

Mr. A. W. Morris and Charley Eames, two well known, prominent young mining men operating in Sonora, Mexico, with headquarters at Magdalena, spent several days in Nogales this week, returning south Thursday morning.

Henry Pyeatt, one of the county's substantial ranchers and stockraisers, is in from the eastern part of the county attending court as a juror. Mr. Pyeatt is the sort of a citizen that gives a man a fair and square deal. He makes a first-class juror.

"Uncle" Hy Sorrells, one of Santa Cruz county's oldest and best citizens has this week been a visitor at the county seat, being a trial juror from Harshaw. Mr. Sorrells is a staunch democrat. He predicts a sweeping victory for the entire democratic ticket. The gentleman held two proxies in the county convention last Saturday.

Mr. James McIntyre, the New York Life Insurance company agent, who has been in Los Angeles several months for the benefit of his health, has returned in fine health and spirits. Mr. McIntyre is one of the best and squarest life insurance agents in the country. He is well and favorably known in Arizona and Sonora, Mexico. His many friends join us in welcoming him home.

Mrs. Ben Powell and P. J. McCarthy, whose splendid ranches are on the sunny side of the beautiful Huachuca mountains in this county, have the past week been circulating among their numerous Nogales friends and acquaintances. The gentlemen are here attending district court, as jurors. They express themselves as greatly pleased with the strong, clean democratic county ticket nominated last Saturday.

Mr. A. M. Gildea of Del Rio, Tex. is in Nogales, the guest of his brother, Judge C. A. Gildea, candidate on the democratic ticket for the office of justice of the peace of Nogales precinct No. 1. This is Mr. Gildea's first visit to our little border city, and he expresses himself as much pleased with the town and our wide awake, law-abiding people. Before returning to Texas he will visit Douglas, Bisbee and Cananea.

George Wieland, the mining man, who with Mr. Theo. Gebler of this city owns a group of splendid mines north of Nogales, in Santa Cruz county, has been in town this week attending district court and visiting his family. George says he has great hopes of making a mine out of his property from which he has already taken considerable good shipping ore. George was one of the original owners of the Jefferson group of mines.

Nogales is to have an up-to-date roller skating rink. It will be in Marsh's opera house and managed by Captain Roseboom of Denver, Colorado, where for several years he successfully managed one of the largest rinks in that city. The venture is backed by a number of local business men, who will spare no expense to have everything first-class and give the public "a skate for their money." Henry Levin and a number of husky high-rollers of Arizona fame, are already arranging a contest with a fat purse at the end of it.

Don't forget the firemen's ball tonight in Armory hall. The boys are working hard to inject new life in the fire company and everybody should give them both financial and moral support.

Major A. Hoover has returned from Sonora, where he has been the past week on mining business. The major will shortly go to Cananea, where he is interested in the big copper mines recently acquired by himself, Marshal P. Wright and associates.

George B. Earnshaw, manager of the Cerro Colorado mines in the Altar district, is a business visitor in the city, having arrived from the south Thursday evening, where he had been in the interest of his big company which is now arranging to operate the old bonanza mines on a mammoth scale under his able management.

L. Morris Raines, manager of the Columbia Consolidated Mining company, accompanied by his estimable wife and clever little son, has gone to Durango, Mexico, on a combined business and pleasure trip, expecting to be gone three weeks. Recently Mr. Raines sold the Maria mine in the Durango district for $10,000 cash. His many friends will be pleased to know that he contemplates making Nogales his home and upon his return will erect a handsome residence here.

Mr. Charley Taylor, the assayer, has returned from a business visit to the Sultana mines owned by the Giroux Consolidated Mines Company. Mr. Taylor states that the mill has been closed down and arrangements are being made to erect a much larger one in its place. He also says the property has the earmarks of becoming a world-beater, and that work on the Copete copper property which is near-by, will be resumed in the near future, but under new management. This will be good news to a number of our people who own Copete stock.

Jasper Dobbs of Phoenix, who is visiting the southern part of the territory for the purpose of advertising the second territorial fair, was a business visitor here yesterday, having arrived Thursday night from the capital city, where he is successfully engaged in the transfer business. Mr. Dobbs is one of the best hustlers in the territory and is doing splendid work for the big fair which promises to be a great success. The gentlemen are being chaperoned around by Hon. Bo. J. Whiteside, territorial fair commissioner for Santa Cruz county.

Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Conard returned from Kansas City, Missouri, where they have been spending the summer. They were accompanied by Claude M. Acklen of Washington, D. C., president of the Buena Fortuna Gold Mining Co. and Mr. Conard, vice president. They were met here by Mr. N. J. Purcell, manager of the company who came up from the Pinto mountains, Sonora, Wednesday evening. Manager Purcell brought with him splendid news regarding conditions at the mines where a large force of miners are busy exploring and developing the same. Several hundred feet of work has been done and the veins continue to grow in magnitude and richness as depth is attained. The gentleman is certain the property will develop into good producing mines. President Acklen and Vice-President Conard will return to camp with Manager Purcell. Mrs. Conard will visit her folks at Guaymas a couple of weeks before returning to Nogales for the winter.

No Arms Into Mexico.

The law against carrying arms from this country into Mexico is being enforced to the letter. It has been thought that persons with a "pull" could disregard the law with impunity, but it has been found out that this is an erroneous impression, for a letter has been received from a government official stating that President Porfirio Diaz has made the prohibition absolute.

The letter from the City of Mexico is as follows:
"Department of the Treasury to the Secretary of Foreign Affairs. Very Urgent.

"The President of the Republic has seen fit to prohibit by his decision of August 27 last, the importation of arms and munitions through the custom houses of the State of Sonora. Several efforts have been made to import arms and munitions to said state under permission obtained prior to the prohibition and even after this the War Department has the same purpose; but neither the former nor the latter have been successful by reason that the said Chief Executive has issued orders making said prohibition absolute. Which I have the honor to transmit to you in reply to your courteous note No. 473 of this date. I renew to you my distinguished consideration.

"Mexico, Sept. 30, 1906.

"On account of absence of the Secretary,

"(Signed) R. NUNEZ,
Sub-Secretary.

BO J. WHITESIDE

Bo J. Whiteside, the unanimous choice of the convention as the law maker for Santa Cruz county, was the first nomination made and it was no mistake. While the entire ticket will be elected, it is freely predicted today that he will have one of the largest majorities of any man on the ticket.

Mr. Whiteside came from California to Arizona in 1880. Before leaving there in 1876 he cast his first vote for Samuel J. Tilden, and has at all times been with the party in its victories and defeats and his proud boast today is that he is a democrat of the McClellan class.

He is by reason of his recent association with the Las Dos Naciones Cigar company one of the best known men in the Territory, understands what legislation is necessary for the good of the people and is the right man for the place.

He was one of the most honored members of the 22nd legislature and all of the laws passed by that body stand upon the Statutes of Arizona. He is in daily receipt of congratulations from his many friends, irrespective of party affiliations and is looked upon as a certain winner.

He was instrumental in framing the democratic county platform, the main plank of which pledges the support of the party in the development of the great mineral resources of Santa Cruz county and will receive the solid support of the hardy followers of the pick and drill.

Bo Whiteside is the man of the people, for the people and THE VIDETTE is glad to say that he will be, in the Legislative halls of the 24th, "the gentleman from Santa Cruz."

Two Men

It seems that all of the republican newspapers are mad at Mark Smith and the anger has extended to New Mexico. The Santa Fe New Mexican says:

"Compare the records of Delegate W. H. Andrews and Delegate Mark A. Smith of Arizona during the first session of the 59th congress. Delegate Andrews did good and yeoman service for the people; Delegate Smith had a nice time of it and did what he could for Delegate Smith. There is the difference."

Mr. Andrews is not running in Arizona, and Mr. Smith is not running in New Mexico; but the comparison is easily made. Mr. Smith went to Washington instructed by his people to fight to the last ditch against joint statehood for the two territories. He made the fight well and faithfully, never wavering in his loyalty, never neglecting the trust imposed in him, and succeeded. He had one of the hardest fights ever blocked out for a delegate; he had arrayed against him all of the powerful influences of the president of the United States and the patronage of the speaker, who controlled the dominant party with a whip hand, gag rule and committee appointments; and he had nothing to aid him in the way of patronage or pull, only the rock ribbed and eternal principle that Americans are born free and equal. Under the circumstances the results are marvelous and his achievements splendid, magnificent. His countryman could not ask more of him. He accomplished what he was sent to do and has erected his citadel in the heart of every free man in Arizona.

Delegate Andrews, on the other hand, has written his name in shame and disgrace. He went to Washington instructed to help Mark Smith prevent this merger. He fell down at the gateway. Every time the administration dipped snuff, he sneezed, every time Cannon auctioned off a public building, he was present to bid to the limit; every time Beveridge whispered falsely, he was there to make affidavit to it; and every time a man mentioned self-government, civic pride or individual liberty, he sneered ostentatiously. He needs no marble slab or towering monument to mark his eternal shame—the public buildings that he got will do this and as long as one stone rests upon another, people will walk by these buildings and say, "Here lies Delegate Andrews, the man who betrayed his trust and sold out his state for these cold and inanimate stones."

Yes, let us read the records of the two delegates. If the people of New Mexico want a traitor as their apostle of liberty, they are welcome to him. As for Arizona, her people are satisfied with the staunch manhood and unwavering devotion to her delegate and the views of both territories being so wide apart it is infinitely better that they should be separate in government.

It is bad enough to know Col. Andrews at a distance; to have him and his kind rule over us would give the people of this territory chronic spasms.—Bisbee Review.

DON'T SULK.

Whatever you do, if do it you must
Don't sulk
Be happy and healthy and jolly and jest
Don't sulk
Don't grumble and mumble and be out of gear
Three hundred and sixty-five days in the year
Whatever your fortune just be of good cheer
Don't sulk
If matters don't happen to tumble your way
Don't sulk
Your plum-tree will drop you a fruitage some day
Don't sulk
There's nothing will scatter the clouds of despair
Like a confident, hopeful and rollicking air
Just give your "Old Grouchy" the go by for fair
Don't sulk
